In September, the CEO of Casa Children's Advocacy Center, a non-profit organization that provides support to children affected by abuse and neglect, said that they have received an overwhelming response to their campaign. Casa Children's Advocacy Center, based in San Diego, aims to provide a safe and nurturing environment for children in need.

The CEO, Marlene McDonald, stated that the response to their campaign has been incredible, with many individuals and organizations offering their support. She thanked everyone for their contributions and emphasized the importance of creating a safe and supportive environment for children.

McDonald emphasized the need for continued support, especially during these challenging times. She encouraged people to stay informed and to get involved in ways that best suit them.

For more information, please visit Casa Children's Advocacy Center's website or contact them directly. You can also become a volunteer or donate to support their mission.

Volunteer

RECOGNIZE A
For CASA advocates and their children
Marlene McDonald goes above and beyond
Volunteer of the Week